

We help sporting clubs

foster equality,
respect & safety

What is CoRE?

Communities of Respect and Equality (CoRE) is an alliance of over 120 organisations, businesses, clubs and groups that are committed to creating safe, equal and respectful communities in the Grampians region.

Benefits of joining CoRE:

Regional Consultants

A designated WHG Regional Consultant will provide your club with one-on-one support, practical guidance and expertise in promoting gender equality in a club context.

Tailored Resources

Access to a suite of resources including Taking Action to Prevent Violence Against Women guides, Gender Equality Action Plan templates, policy templates and bystander posters - all developed specifically for clubs to help them understand and address the issue of gender-based violence in engaging and effective ways.

Targeted Programs

Access to Act@Play, a 6-month intensive cultural change program for sporting clubs to fast track gender equality outcomes and help create inclusive, safe, respectful and welcoming environments across your systems, structures, and culture.

Innovative Training

To help educate and upskill members on sexism, discrimination and violence against women and foster a call it out culture. We offer training to clubs at no cost.
